Pastoral and Spiritual Care

Information for patients, families and friends

Spiritual care is the provision of assessment, counselling, support and ritual in matters of a person's beliefs, traditions, values and practices enabling the person to access their own spiritual resources.

Spiritual Health Victoria

Pastoral Care is person centred. It is concerned with the spiritual, as well as the physical, emotional and social aspects of a person's wellbeing.

The experience of coming into hospital either with illness or following an accident may be unexpected and quite difficult. You may be facing hard choices or remembering losses.

Pastoral and Spiritual Care staff can be available to listen in a compassionate manner.

You may wish for a caring ear with a specific problem or want someone to hear your story and respect and honour your feelings about your situation.

You may like us to help facilitate the celebration of religious festivals or provide prayer support.

You may hope for company and someone who you can lean on.

If you or your loved one may benefit from Pastoral and Spiritual Care, ask your nurse or social worker to call us or call directly on 9076 4084.

Pastoral and Spiritual Care at Caulfield Hospital

If you would like to see a minister from your own religious tradition, please contact the Pastoral and Spiritual Care Department to arrange this.

We have regular, ongoing visitation from Anglican, Buddhist, Catholic, Greek Orthodox, Hindu, Humanist, Jewish, Lutheran, Muslim, Presbyterian, Spiritual and Uniting Church Clergy and Volunteers as well as many other visiting Ministers who will attend on request.

We also have Pastoral and Spiritual volunteer visitors visit all patients in a ward.

Please ask a nurse should you want this service.

We are in contact with local religious and cultural communities. We are happy to help you to contact your community.
