

MONASH AND UNIVERSITY COLLEGE LONDON

2023 PERIOPERATIVE MEDICINE SHORT COURSE

MONASH UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT OF ANAESTHESIOLOGY
AND PERIOPERATIVE MEDICINE

UCL CENTRE FOR PERIOPERATIVE MEDICINE

WHY DO THE COURSE

Perioperative medicine is an emerging field of medicine that has developed in response to the increasing age and complexity of patients and in the number of surgical procedures being performed.

The course has been developed as a collaboration between Perioperative Medicine experts at both Monash University and University College London and aims to provide a comprehensive overview of topics considered important in the field.

WHO THE COURSE IS AIMED AT

Anaesthetists, Intensivists, Physicians, Surgeons, Pain Specialists, Emergency Physicians, General Practitioners, Nurses, Specialist Nurses and Allied Health Therapists and any professionals interested in perioperative care.

COURSE STRUCTURE

Six-week online course including:

- Interactive modules including videos, reading packages, journal articles, quizzes and PeriopMed Podcast (Monash) and TopMed talks Podcast (UCL)
